The Spirit of Africa is waiting to embrace you...

I have been investigating the realms of spirituality for over 30 years and have a broad and extensive knowledge and understanding of spiritual matters. Living in South Africa for 2 years, from 2003-2005, and visiting many times since, has given me an understanding, an appreciation, and a deep respect and love for Southern Africa and its people. Whilst there, I have made many wonderful connections and had many powerful and deep experiences. Now it is time for me to share these connections and experiences with you.

Each day of this 21-day journey will be filled with something very magical, empowering, and memorable. As we journey together a magical bond will unfold as we explore, discover, and travel together through our various emotions and feelings, joys, and challenges. I trust this journey will be full of new and empowering insights, gifts, experiences, and opportunities for you to grow and expand and give you an experience you can carry and hold in your heart, mind, and soul forever.

Our journey begins many weeks or months before we meet up in South Africa, as we prepare and get organized to go. We will have a few Zoom calls together.

As we weave our way across South Africa and into Namibia, Botswana and Zimbabwe the Magic of Africa will weave her deep magic into your hearts and souls. Our 21-day journey will take us on a journey of exploration, discovery, and transformation as we step into magical, positively challenging, and exciting experiences. This journey will be a journey of stepping in and meeting and kindling or re-kindling our connection to Spirit; both internally and externally.

During the evenings we will have time to relax and put our feet up, share our experiences and stories of the day and share some amazing meals together. Some of the days are given over for free time to explore, shop, and meet the locals and to give you time to connect with yourself for a time if you choose to.

I look forward to your presence on this Spirit of Africa Journey and look forward to sharing all that unfolds for you and the group as we travel from place to place and let the magic weave its way into our hearts and souls ...

In Gratitude and Joyous Creation, Adrian
